COMMENTS CONCERNING THE ADVISORY ACTION

DATED JULY 23, 2004

Sir:

Applicant filed a response to the April 7, 2004 Final Office Action on June 23, 2004 ("the June 23, 2004 response") and has now requested that the June 23, 2004 response be entered and considered. [See the Request for Continued Examination being filed concurrently herewith.] The June 23, 2004 response included amendments to page 5 of the specification and extensive arguments explaining why the amendments to page 5 are not "new matter." [See pages 12-15 of the June 23, 2004 response.] The July 23, 2004 Advisory Action indicated that the amendments to page 5 of the specification constitute "new matter." The July 23, 2004 Advisory Action did not, however, address many of applicant's arguments. By way of example, but not limitation, the July 23, 2004 Advisory Action did not even begin to address the arguments concerning the portions of the specification quoted on pages 13 and 14 of the June 23, 2004 response and the relationship between the quoted portions of the specification and the drawings.

Accordingly, if the "new matter" objection is maintained in the next Office Action, applicant respectfully requests that the Examiner specifically respond to each of the points made by applicant on pages 12-15 of the June 23, 2004 response in order to crystallize the issues and place the application in proper form for petition or appeal.
